I immediately fell in love with these books, as I am one of those die-hard aspiring Martha Stewart/Rachael Ray/(Insert-other-perfect-homemaker) type. Each volume has ideas on how to start or keep different Christmas traditions, and has a wealth of home made gifts--that you would actually be PROUD to give! I am the type where I like to say "Here you go, I made this" and have people be excited to receive the gift, as well as jealous they didn't think of something this clever to give themselves. To be honest, all of the volumes tend to blend together for me, and I have them all marked-up with notes on things I want to try, or how I like the projects/recipes I DID try. A quick note about the recipes, they are all pretty simple and BAD for you, but amazingly tasty. A couple of the recipes I make throughout the year when I am craving some comfort food. I suggest buying this book at least three months before Christmas if you are using it to help plan, so that you have proper time to decide what gifts you would like to make, or recipes you would want to use, get the supplies, and actually have the time to make gifts. I highly recommend this whole series!0 of 0 people found the following review helpful.
