By KIBI knew that the book was used, but it showed up without its dust jacket, so it is a solid red book with no writing what-so-ever on the cover (front or back or spine). Definitely not what was pictured, very disappointed! 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Average Christmas decorating book By Amy W. The photos are very nice in this book, and it offered me a couple of ideas, but honestly there wasn't anything new or different in this book, or much that gave me new inspiration for Christmas decorating. I've definitely bought books that had a lot more ideas and inspiration than this one. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Five Stars By Merry L. Armata Beautiful

For nearly one hundred years, House Beautiful Magazine has helped to make the holidays a special time. This is a collection of decorating, celebrating, and entertaining ideas for the festive season.

.com If Christmas makes your house look great, just think what it does for the country houses of the Manhattan elite and the Colonial mansions of the Williamsburg landed gentry. You can sink into a book like this one and stay there for hours, imagining how you'd do Christmas if you won the lottery. It features tastemakers who have just a smidge more je ne sais quois (and a lot more dishes) than the rest of us, and decorate, entertain, and celebrate in massive style. You'll look at the photos and think, "Yes, that is how I'd decorate the traditional kiva fireplace in the master bedroom suite." Loaded down with gorgeous photographs on nearly every page, this book is perfect both for those who can't afford to emulate it and those who can. Excerpt. Reprinted by permission. Whole cloves are pressed into the skins in a variety of designs; besides lemons and oranges, tangerines, clementines, and kumquats are good for pomanders. Garden writer Elvin McDonald decorated his evergreen wreaths with the promise of spring in the form of ready-to-plant narcissus bulbs. The bulbs are held in place with green string. Wreathing the Season in Gold Easy-to-make presents start with gold lame fabric wrapped around the roots of miniature evergreen trees - available at garden centers - and tied with gold cord. The ornaments, which children can help bake, are star-shaped spice cookies, glazed with white sugar icing. The delicious star spangles are hung on the tree with gold ribbon.
