They Love It!By KellyWho are 'they' and why do they love it?They are my wife, her women's group and another lady that runs a foundation that teaches under-educated women how to become self-sufficient. We live in Thailand where there are many women, mostly single mothers, without a viable means to support themselves. One of the foundations here has been quite successful for several years in helping women though teaching them sewing and how to run a cottage industry. When I showed my wife Margo's book on how to dye, she became very - yes very - excited. After a bit of recruiting friends for a girls craft event that was a huge success, the next step seemed natural. Take what they learned to the foundation. This book is so well organized, well written, and complete it was the only resource they used to add a complete section to their training at the foundation. 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Amazingly resourceful book!By Nilah MThis is one of the best books

I've come across, that really teaches you how to dye your own fabrics. I picked up dyeing as a hobby, and was really drawn towards tie and dye work. But I did not necessarily have the information about equipment, color mixes, what kind of colors exist and which fabric is best suited for what kind of color. I learnt all of that and much more in this book. I LOVE the color wheel and the different projects/ideas that the authors have shared. I know what I am doing all summer now! 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. So easy! By B Nelson I like how the author teaches. I wish she would write a book about how to fix my car, because I think she makes that seem easy as well. She has a great style. Once you get the hang of dyeing, you can create whatever colour you want and even a good many that you didn't want at first . . . A book like this is always better with some light humor. How to Dye Your Own Fabric by Margo Price is very well done, thorough and teaches you just what it says. It's all you need. Five stars.
