I wanted to find out what was involved with the craft and if I was interested. This book helped fulfill that need. 2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. Lots of good ideas By SWestlake The book is easy to follow and lots of ideas. Can't wait to get started. 26 of 28 people found the following review helpful. How to paint on anything that looks like glass.... By Pamela Lim This book gives you inspiration to use anything that looks like glass around the home, Ferrero Rocher plastic box, glass box, bottles, acetate, and makes you want to do your windows and mirrors.....! The artist teaches you with available tools around your home and it is relieving to know that you don't have to have this and that tool before embarking on a simple project that may take you just a day to finish. Patterns are given and you are taught how to make your own too, definitely a fail-proof manual and reference book that you would find hard to keep on the shelf...!

This book shows you how to capture the look of stained glass to make stunning window panels, glowing candle shades, simple suncatchers and jewellery on glass, plastic or acetate.

About the Author Julia Bottrell gained a degree in graphics and worked as a copywriter and freelance illustrator before becoming a professional glass painter. She now demonstrates the craft, runs workshops and undertakes commissions. Her main interest outside glass painting is medieval art, and she is a member of the Richard III Society. Julia lives with her husband, son and dog in Salisbury.
