I was drawn to it by the beautiful cover art and was so pleased to see that it combines my interest in needlepoint and landscape painting. This is not another "follow the dots" instruction book, but instead starts with paintings and shows ways to enhance and personalize the designs with creative stitch work. Once you start to think this way, you will find yourself creating your own designs drawn from photographs, the view outside your window, whatever catches your fancy. This is the most exciting and original approach to needlework I have seen in years. 2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. Great Gem!!! By Dr Maggie This amazing book helped me with stitch selections and the more difficult bit of how to apply different stitches to my canvases. No single book has helped me more than this and it's companion book. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. WORTH EVERY PENNY By Mrs. Patricia Hill BEAUTIFUL BOOK. WELL DESCRIBED, EASY TO READ AND CARRY OUT THE TRIALS ON YOUR OWN CANVAS. ALSO EASILY TRANSFERABLE TO PATCHWORK AND MIXED MEDIA. WELL WORTH BUYING.

Designed for both beginning and experienced stitchers, this book has innovative stitches and techniques to stitch many of the most common elements found in landscapes, including water, plants, sky, ground, and structures. By showing the actual stitches on real needlepoint canvases, this book goes beyond the usual needlepoint book. With it you'll learn easy needlepoint techniques that will enliven your work. With every technique explained in detail and with color stitch diagrams, this is a book you'll use again and again. Part of the Art Needlepoint series, How to Stitch Beginning Landscapes Realistically puts these designs within the larger context of art and shows how you, as a stitcher, are similar to the landscape painter. If you've looking for something that not only tells you about stitches but shows you how they can be used, this is the book for you.

About the Author Janet M. Perry is the Internet's expert on needlepoint counted thread. Her books, stitch guides, ebooks, and on-line classes explore exciting new uses for this new old craft. She puts into practice her motto to make needlepoint fast, fun and affordable. Janet is constantly stretching the bounds of needlepoint and then applying these ideas and techniques to projects which are for beginning and intermediate level stitchers. She has also written a beginning needlepoint class, taken via email, which has been given to over 2000 people. Janet has never met a thread she didn't like and is constantly doing or thinking about needlepoint. She makes her home on historic Mare Island in San Francisco Bay with her husband and three black cats.
