KeithleyWhile I am not a big fan of CTMH's other products, Jeanette Lynton hit a grand slam with her series of Scrapbooking idea books. These books - Imagine, Cherish, Reflections, and now Magic - are part of my go to shelf whenever I am stuck for an idea for a scrapbook layout. Not only are there great sketches in there, organized in an index with the number of pictures in the sketch clearly labeled, but there are clear instructions on how to create special effects or techniques shown in these books (all with CTMH products, of course, but easily substituted with products from Stampin' Up! or mainstream BM store product). My favorite thing about these books, however, is that in those clear instructions are the exact dimensions of each border and accent that you need to cut. The instructions show a sketch of the paper and how the cuts would be taken on each piece, making it easy to substitute your own patterned/designer papers and cardstock.How much do I love these books? When prepping for a scrapbook weekend recently, I searched and searched through the boxes we had yet to unpack from moving last Thanksgiving and could not find Imagine and Cherish. I immediately came to , ordered them and, with my Prime account, got them here stat!0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Just awesome -- can't say enoughBy JustdoitThis is a fabulous book! I have so many papers and get lost in coordinating layouts and using them. The book gives examples with specific size cutting instructions for the papers and layout. First you choose how many pictures you have for the pages, then look at those full color examples. Just awesome -- can't say enough. Close to My Heart is the best as everything coordinates -- no more guesswork!
