5 of 5 people found the following review helpful. Inspirational! By Judy This book was exactly what I was hoping it would be. Not a book of projects and instructions, but a book of guidelines and examples of how to use fabric panels in your own quilt and wall hanging designs. It got my creative juices flowing! 3 of 3 people found the following review helpful. Like the "We did the Math" - when it takes ... By Denice Brue-Clopton It was helpful. By the time I got this book, I had material/panels that were different sizes. I put them aside until I have time to really look at this and digest it. They had some very helpful hints in the book. Like the "We did the Math" - when it takes too much thinking - it escapes me. My crafts have to be simple and mindless. That is why I am doing them to get away from other hard projects. I still would recommend book.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Five StarsBy Elaine MHaven't used it yet but will soon. Sure it will help me learn something I have never done before!

Explore all the possibilities you have when you work with fabric panels with this guide. Learn to Quilt with Panels takes quilters on a creative journey showing them step by step how to use panels in quilts or as design elements simply by cutting them apart and incorporating them into quilt setting. This book shows options the quilter may not have thought of and also teaches how to start with an idea, then graph and design it, actually do the math, and finally complete it. This book is destined to be a go-to resource.

About the AuthorCarolyn S. Vagts is a wife, mother, grandmother, quilt designer and the editor of Quilter's World. She also has a successful quilt shop in Lake Orion, Mich. Carolyn has made a name for herself in the quilting world with her award-winning techniques of mixing traditional piecing with fusible-art applique. Carolyn's designs have been published regularly in several magazines, including Quilter's World. She also lectures and teaches workshops to guilds. The creative process has been a notable part of her life. She studied drawing, pottery and sculpture in college and received a Liberal Arts degree. She finally found her niche in quilting as a fiber artist. She hopes to bring a fresh, new outlook to Quilter's World. Lake Orion, MI
